Direct Project Cost Refers to service or product that will be directly provided to the community or sector. All Direct Project costs are expected to be sustained by the proponent/community after PEF assistance.	Project Eligibility The project should respond to the problems of poverty and marginalization, and bring tangible results to the poor families of community within 3 to 6 months of project implementation. PEF favors project proposals that use a "tried and tested" methodology as we build on the proponent's experience in delivering the intended results. The proponent is thus encouraged to study successful approaches and adapt these to local conditions.	Types of Project for Funding: The specific activities to be supported by PEF include, but are not necessarily limited to are the following: 1. Livelihood and Employment Financial Services a. Micro-finance b. Micro-lending c. Micro-insurance d. Micro-savings	PEF has not established maximum or minimum peso amounts, but rather look at the amount needed for each specific project based on scope of work and expected outcomes.	The loans bear interest rates that are set from time to time by the Foundation.	Loans usually have a one-year repayment period, renewable annually.
